Mark Anderson, Ph.D. Director of Conservation Science for the Eastern Region of the Nature Conservancy; co-author of the National Vegetation Classification

Robert F. Baldwin, Ph.D. Research Scientist at Two Countries, One Forest; on faculty at Clemson University and Antioch University New England

Karen Beazley, Ph.D. Director and Associate Professor at the School for Resource and Environmental Studies, Dalhousie University; on the Boards of the Canadian Council on Ecological Areas, Science and Management of Protected Areas Association, and Two Countries, One Forest

Graham Forbes, Ph.D. Professor, Faculty of Forestry and Environmental Management, University of New Brunswick; Director, Sir James Dunn Wildlife Research Centre; Director, NB Cooperative Fish and Wildlife Research Unit

Louise Gratton Director of Science and Stewardship for Nature Conservancy Canada, Quebec region; Scientific advisor, Appalachian Corridor

Justina Ray, Ph.D. Senior Scientist and Executive Director of Wildlife Conservation Society Canada; Founding Board member of Two Countries, One Forest

Conrad Reining Eastern Director, Wildlands Project; Board member, Two Countries, One Forest; Northern Green Mountains Conservation Initiative Steering Committee

Stephen Trombulak, Ph.D. (Chair) Albert D. Mead Professor of Biology at Middlebury College; Society for Conservation Biology, president of the North American regional section (2004–2006)

Gillian Woolmer Assistant Director of Wildlife Conservation Society Canada
